The RecSys Challenge 2015

Accompanying the ACM Recommender System Conference in 2015, the RecSys Challenge was organized and performed by YOOCHOOOSE GmbH. Participants worked on a large-scale ecommerce dataset and the task was to predict what items a user intends to purchase during an activity session. The challenge was launched on November 15, 2014, with a final submission deadline of June 15, 2015.

Over 850 teams from 49 countries participated.
